Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

---

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:
- ☐ the entire international application,
  - ☒ claims Nos. 20,21
because:
    - ☐ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):
    - ☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
    - ☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.
    - ☒ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos. 20,21
    - ☐ the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing does not comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions in that:
      - the written form ☐ has not been furnished
      - ☐ does not comply with the standard
      - the computer readable form ☐ has not been furnished
      - ☐ does not comply with the standard
    - ☐ the tables related to the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in computer readable form only, do not comply with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions.
  - ☐ See separate sheet for further details

ON PATENTABILITY

International application No.
PCT/GB2005/001174

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Yes: Claims	1-19
	No: Claims
Inventive step (IS)	Yes: Claims	1-19
	No: Claims
Industrial applicability (IA)	Yes: Claims	1-19
	No: Claims

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7):

see separate sheet

Re Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

Claims 20 and 21 do not fulfill the requirements of Rule 6.2 (a) PCT.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: US-A-3 106 801

2. The document D1 shows (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

An electrically heated plant propagator comprising a transparent cover (12).

- 2.1. The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from this known plant propagator in that the cover has electrically conductive heating elements on or in the inner surface of the cover, the heating elements being connectable to an electric power supply by which the heating element, through resistive heating, heats the inside of the plant propagator when the cover is closed.
- 2.2. The subject-matter of claim 1 seems therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT).
3. The problem to be solved by the present invention may be regarded as to avoid condensation inside the propagator and to reduce the transmission of light into the propagator (see description, page 1, lines 10-13).
- 3.1. The solution to this problem proposed in claim 1 of the present application may be considered as involving an inventive step (Article 33(3) PCT) because the prior published documents cited in the search report, either taken individually or in combination do not disclose, suggest or reasonably lead the person skilled in the art to consider the application of electrically conductive heating elements on or in the inner surface of the cover of the plant propagator. The person skilled in the art would not be able to combine all the features of claim 1 and such arrive at the claimed electrically heated plant propagator without an inventive activity.

4. Claims 2-19 are dependent on claim 1 and as such seem to meet also the requirements of the PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.
